Short-Term Rental

The completely flexible vehicle option

We understand business car and van rental like few others.

We know that the process of ordering a vehicle needs to be fast and easy, pricing needs to be transparent and attractive, and when it is not needed any more, each vehicle can be collected quickly and efficiently.*

Also, most importantly, the vehicle has to meet your fleet's needs and be available when and where it is needed.

To deliver on these principles, we have access to a network of more than 850 delivery points across the country operating 140,000 cars and 60,000 light commercial vehicles, meaning we can generally meet your specific requirements. As you would expect, all are maintained to the highest standards.

Our costs are clear and transparent with Road Fund Licence included and there is reduced financial risk with our free "No Loss of Use" service and invoicing is consolidated for greater control over your rental spend.

We will even help you track and understand the different reasons for your rental bookings and how they fit into your overall fleet management strategy, helping you to make sure that you are only booking vehicles when they are really needed.

When it comes to short-term rental, Arval has the know-how to keep your business and your drivers moving.

* a small fee is applied for collection of vehicles
